IS YOUR STOMACH CLOGGED WITH WASTE?

F. D. Pierce Guarantees to Return the Money if Mi-o-na Does not Relieve You.

"It is a pleasure to sell a medicine when my customers come in after ward and tell me how much good it has done them," said F. D. Pierce, the popular druggist at a Monitor man, "and that is why I like to sell and recommend Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy. I have so much faith in this article that I am going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of Mi-o-na whom it does not help. That may seem rash but my customers have said so many good words in its favor that I do not expect to have many packages returned.

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and who can leave 50 cents deposit at my store and take home a box of Mi-o-na and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money."

Pierce was great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since F. D. Pierce introduced it in Barton shows that it does what is claimed to do—relieve dyspepsia, regulate digestion and enable those who use it to eat just what they want with no fear of trouble after.

Sold and guaranteed in Orleans by F. J. Kinney.

MRS. LUCY FAIRBANKS GRAHAM.

There are some lives which, themselves secluded, play yet a large part in the world through the impulse and inspiration which they give to the careers which are more widely known. Such was the life of Mrs. Graham. She was born at St. Johnsbury, June 13, 1835, the daughter of Robert T. D. Sweet of St. Johnsbury and Sarah Stuart of Peabody. An old family friendship gave her the name of Lucy Fairbanks, the wife of the well known Thaddeus Fairbanks. Her father's early death and her mother's subsequent marriage to Alvin H. French of Craftsbury brought Mrs. Graham to that town where a large part of her after-life was spent. She was a woman of fine educational attainments, trained at Craftsbury academy, at St. Johnsbury academy and at Holyoke. She was married to Samuel Hallett Graham of New York and for many years chief clerk of the United States Army Office at that city. There were four children: Robert S., of Harvey Fisk and Sons, New York; Isabel Stuart; Horace F., and Lois Tolman, whom all save the last survive. For many years Mrs. Graham has made her home with her son, Horace Graham of Craftsbury, whose many friends throughout the state will know how to appreciate somewhat the character of the mother. The funeral was held at the late residence in Craftsbury Tuesday, Dec. 21, the Rev. John Chamberlain of St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal church, New York officiating.

C. Cole had his cows tested a few days ago and had the misfortune to have them condemned and killed.

Mrs. Chase, Fred Wheeler, Charles Willey, H. O. Douglass, C. B. Cole and N. B. Williams were called to Hardwick Friday to attend a hearing in connection with the explosion in Douglass's shop two years ago.

Among those from away to be present at A. E. Cowles's funeral were Chandler Whitney, Ed. Smith and two sisters of Barton, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rogers of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. Shedd of Barton, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cowles and H. W. Cowles of Lyndonville, A. L. Cowles of Bridgeport, Conn. and Mrs. Ware of Coventry, Mrs. Elsie Slayton of Barre.

Mrs. Lucy Graham whose sickness has been mentioned died Thursday. The funeral was held at the home Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Dr. John Chamberlain officiating. The remains were taken to New York and placed beside her husband. She leaves a daughter, Isabelle, who has been her constant companion and two sons, Hon. H. E. Graham of this place, and Robert Graham of New York City beside a host of devoted friends to mourn her loss.

A. E. COWLES.

Albert E. Cowles, for many years a prominent resident of this place died while visiting his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Slayton, of Barre, Dec. 13. The end following a week's illness of pneumonia, at 72 years of age. He is survived by his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Slayton, and four sons, C. L. Cowles of Craftsbury, A. L. Cowles of Bridgeport, Conn., and H. R. and H. W. Cowles of Lyndonville. He was born in Craftsbury May 13, 1843. He married Mary Whitney and to them were born a daughter and two sons. He died 35 years ago and in 1885 he married Sadie Rogers. He was active in the affairs of his town, a good counselor in everything concerning it. About half a century ago he became a Christian and connected himself with the Congregational church in this place, of which he continued a member as long as he lived. He was a member of Henry Flint Post No. 15, G. A. R. His influence extended throughout the state. He enlisted July 17, 1862 at Fort Park for three years in Co. I First Vermont Cavalry, and was mustered out of service on June 21st, 1865 at Burlington. He served for some time as orderly despatch carrier, was never wounded, taken prisoner or even in the hospital during his whole period of service. The records show he was in 41 engagements of more or less severity, besides the heavy skirmishes of which no record has been made. He was honored by all in civil and military life. There is a vacancy now that no one can fill. He was a citizen worthy of all trust; as a husband, loving and kind as a father winning the respect of his children, as a grandfather, devoted and helpful; as a friend he was what Antony said of Caesar, "Faithful and just." As a man he was every inch a man. How can the large circle of friends help mourning his loss. The funeral service was held in the church Thursday, the largest attendance known for many years. Rev. C. H. Rowley officiated, assisted by R. H. Pierce.

Card of Thanks—We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who by word and act have helped us at this time of our bereavement.

Mrs. Sadie B. Cowles and family.

NYDIA'S LOVE SONG.

The wind and the beam loved the rose,
And the rose loved one,
For who rocks the wind where it blows,
Or loves not the sun?

None knew where the humble wind stole,
Poor sport of the skies,
None dreamt that the wind had a soul
In its mournful sighs.

Oh, happy beam! How canst thou prove
That bright love of thine?
In thy light is the proof of thy love,
Thou hast but—to shine.

How its love can the wind reveal?
Unwelcome its sigh;
Mute—mute to its rose let it steal—
Its proof is—to die.

—Edward Bulwer-Lytton.
